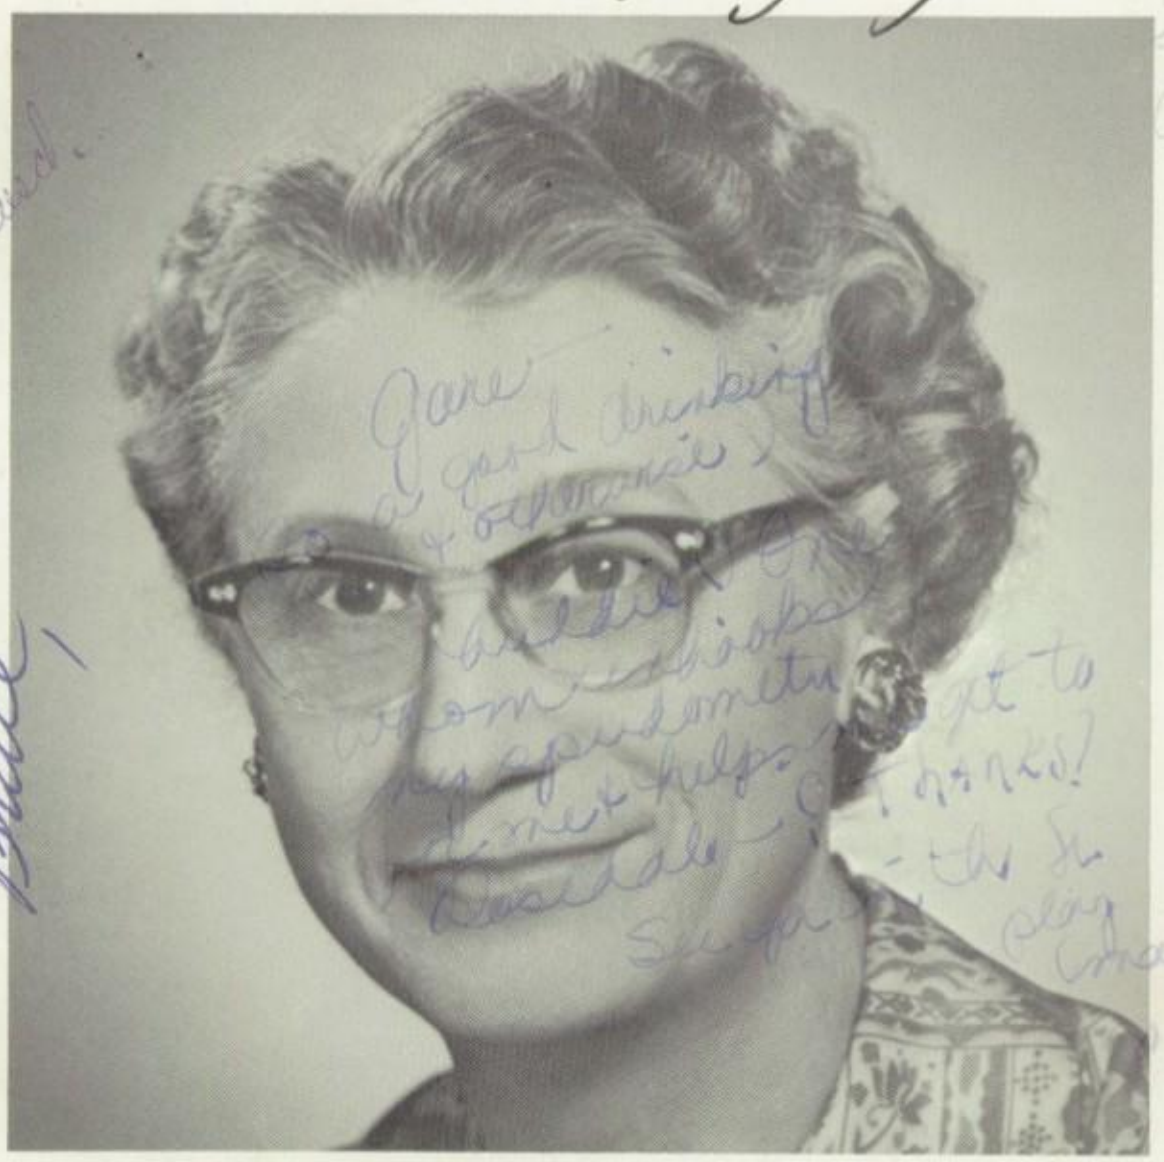
THE key 63

THE 1963 KEY

In Dedication



We, the members of the 1963 Key Staff, are proud to dedicate this annual to Miss Marguerite Williams, whose wisdom, patience, and understanding have been a great inspiration to all who have known her. Many students have passed through her classroom to great heights, as great a tribute as can be given to her guiding talents.

WHAT WERE WE IN SIXTY THREE? THIS IS THE QUESTION WE WILL TRY TO ANSWER THROUGHOUT THE PAGES OF THIS BOOK. IT IS A DIFFICULT QUESTION TO ANSWER, FOR WE WERE MANY THINGS ALL AT ONCE. SOMETIMES WE WERE HAPPY, SOMETIMES WE WERE MADE TO WORK, AND SOMETIMES WE BECAME DISCOURAGED. SOME OF US WERE ANXIOUS FOR THE COMING OF THAT DAY IN MAY WHEN WE WOULD LAY THE CORNERSTONE FOR THE FOUNDATION OF OUR LIVES.

WE, THE MEMBERS OF THE 1963 KEY STAFF, SINCERELY HOPE THAT THIS BOOK WILL CAPTURE AND HOLD FOR YOU THE MEMORIES OF WHAT WE WERE DURING THIS CHAPTER OF OUR LIVES.

MOMENTS TO REMEMBER

Early experiences as are pictured on these pages have helped mold what we were in '63. Slumber parties, sledding parties, and birthday parties are all kept vivid in our minds. Besides the fun, the serious times also have played an important part in our lives. The books, classes, teachers, have all had a direct bearing on the shaping of our personalities that were revealed in the final analysis by what we were in '63.

In '63 this group was the Junior Class. But they weren't just a class, they were individuals. Some were scholars, some were musicians, some were speakers, and some were fun lovers.

They were rushing around working hard to squeeze all their activities into their school lives. They were doing some special things like producing the junior play and sponsoring the Junior-Senior Prom.

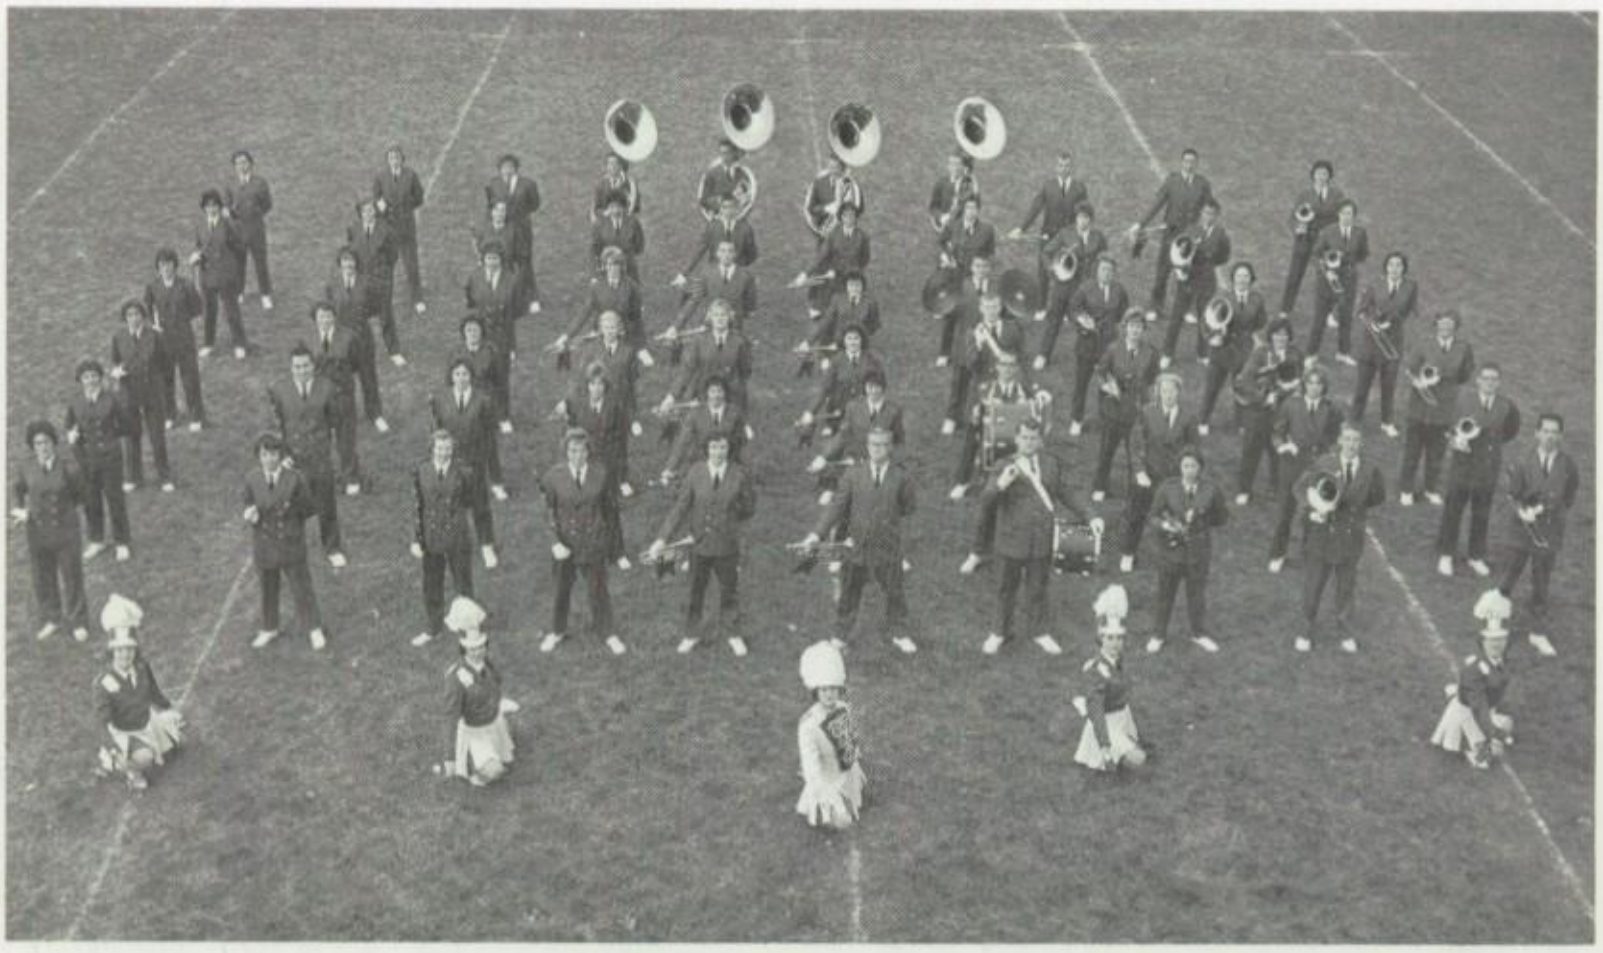
Marching Band



The hardworking, industrious members of the 1962-63 MHS Marching Band were victorious in their own right.

Drilled to near perfection, the members of the band produced weekly halftime shows that never failed to dazzle the spectators. It was clear by the audience reactions at each of the games that the MHS Marching Band rated top in the Mid-Eight League, where unofficial inter-band competition is often times as strong as between the two teams.

Through their own efforts and those of the Lions' Club members, the band was selected to represent the state of Ohio at the Lions' National Convention in Miami, Florida, June 17-21.

It takes a lot of wind!

SCHOOL BANDS

Dance Band

The seventy members of the Marysville High School concert band attempted more varied and difficult pieces of music this year in preparation for their concert in Miami, Florida.

The band members this year tackled difficult symphonic music (that was out of their class) in lieu of participating in the various concert band contests throughout the state, as in previous years. However, the band did perform in the two traditional concerts here in Marysville, the Pop Concert and the Spring Concert which was followed by the Military Ball. The concert band also held a concert in Miami, which was well received and continued to build the reputation of Marysville.

The Dance Band of '63, enjoyed this year, for the first time, regular practice sessions. During these sessions the fifteen piece band prepared for many different activities.

They played at the Jaycee's Man of the Year Banquet, the Lions' Christmas Party, the Junior and Senior High Christmas Dances, and the Pop Concert.

To end a successful year, the Dance Band played a concert in Miami, while attending the Lions' International Convention.

In the '62-'63 school year the F.H.A. worked hard to further home-making.

They sponsored the Sadie Hawkin's dance and held their annual style show. By having a yearly style show they hope to learn the art of wearing clothes well. Each month one of their members was elected "Girl of the Month" for service in her club. The members were also active in sponsoring many speakers at their meetings to aid them in becoming better homemakers and in planning their futures.

This year's club has truly upheld their motto, "Toward New Horizons."

F.F.A.

Adviser: Mr. Blumenschein. Officers: Steve Rausch, Jim Amrine, Fred Henault, Paul Cotton, Duane Rausch, Gary Lee, Darryl McKitrick.

All vocational agriculture students are members of the F.F.A., an organization dedicated to building character while having fun and preparing its members to be the best farmers.

The club has been active and enthusiastic during the school year. Members have operated refreshment stands at both the home football and basketball games. They have cattle and land judging contests yearly and compete in a series of county-wide parliamentary procedure contests preparing them to be part of their government as well as well-rounded future citizens and farmers.

The Girls' Athletic Association directed by Mrs. Warren Widner, strove to meet high goals in '63.

They opened the year by having their first meeting in the American Legion Park; a picnic which was designed to assimilate the new and old members of G.A.A.

Each year the association attempts to make one major purchase to improve the Athletic Department. This year they purchased fencing equipment, adding another to the long list of activities available to Marysville students. Members also sold candy to raise funds with which they sponsored a needy family at Christmas time. Another of the G.A.A.'s accomplishments was the building of a very fine basketball team which gained MHS the league title. The G.A.A. concluded the year with its annual girls' invitational spring dance.

In '63 the MHS Key Clubbers were eager, active, and helpful both in their school and in their community.

They pitched in to lend a helping hand in making their Kiwanian sponsor's annual chicken barbeque and auction a success. Members held a door to door canvas urging their neighbors, the people of the community, to get out and vote. Not only did members boost civics in the community but they added to school life. Each morning Key Club members raised the flag and started the school day by reading the invocation. Key Clubbers kept the bulletin board updated and sponsored other activities such as the Key Club Dance, the Thanksgiving program, the Key Club-Y-Teen Sweetheart Dance, and inter-club meetings with other Key Clubs in the area.

In '63 the Marysville Key Club added to community and student life in keeping with their motto, "We Build."

This compact group comprised of both seniors and juniors met every day of each week in an air of congeniality to produce the 1963 edition of the KEY.

The temperature of this "air of congeniality" was raised somewhat at various times when members of the staff engaged in friendly debates over different aspects of the annual. It was, however, through this system of free expression and discussion of ideas that the staff was able to put the annual together quickly and efficiently.

It is the sincere wish of each member of the staff that this yearbook will provide many years of lasting memories of what we were in 1963.

The Mosaic staff of 1962-63, under the guidance of Mr. Lynn Briggs, acquired new knowledge in the efficiency and style of modern newspaper production in producing several fine issues of MHS' newspaper.

This year's paper was expanded to include more original poetry, fiction, and an editorial page, as well as the regular features carried over from previous years. The newly added editorial page, through which MHS students could safely vent their feelings on certain topics of interest to the high school, was well received and is expected to become a traditional part of the Mosaic.

The Mosaic staff is to be commended for its work and for the fact that they were students of their own work in '63.

The members, through these activities, fulfilled their pur-pose to build fellowship among all people.

The 1962 chapter of MHS football history reveals no astounding seasonal record.

However, such a year is the necessary, although undesirable, part of remolding a team after several years of high league standings.

In a losing season, a coach has his hands full merely combating a sag in team morale. MHS head football coach Maurice Pfeifer was no exception. Even so, at the end of the season, a number of his team members received Mid-Eight League honors.

Mr. Pfeifer, Mr. Van de Grift, Mr. Gilger, Mr. Diehl.

Marysville High School's cage squad encountered many problems in 1963 Mid-Eight competition.

The low league rankings this year fail to reveal time and effort put into game by this year's teammates. They received little compensation for the hours they spent each night studying play patterns or the energy they expended during grueling conditioning sessions and scrimmages. Not only did the team members expend a great deal of time and hard work to the game and their school, but they made many sacrifices. They displayed high morals through the year and represented their school well in '63 by exhibiting courtesy and good sportsmanship at all times.

Rick Magsig, Sam Norris, Angus MacIvor, Raymond Herd, Pat Kirchner, Jim Sampsel, John Fitzgerald, Dudley Blumenschein, John Warden, T. J. Thompson, Dave Balderson, Ronnie Hall, Eddy Arnold.

The reserve basketball team of '63 did their part to bring honor to Marysville High School. The thirteen sophomores completed the season with a record of eleven wins and seven losses.

A seven game winning spree was ended when one of the players was injured. The reserves, however, bounced back near the end of the season with three straight additional wins.

All of these sophomores proved with their good sportsmanship and determination to win that they will be a credit to MHS and to the varsity team in years to come.

The G.A.A. Girls' Basketball Team compiled an all win-no loss season in '63. The season included two victories each over Gahanna, Jonathan Alder, Hilliard, and London.

The five seniors and seven juniors who comprised this year's squad were again under the coaching skills of Mrs. Warren Widner.

The players, managers, and the coach all deserve much recognition for attaining the distinction of remaining UNDEFEATED through the stiff Mid-Eight League competition.

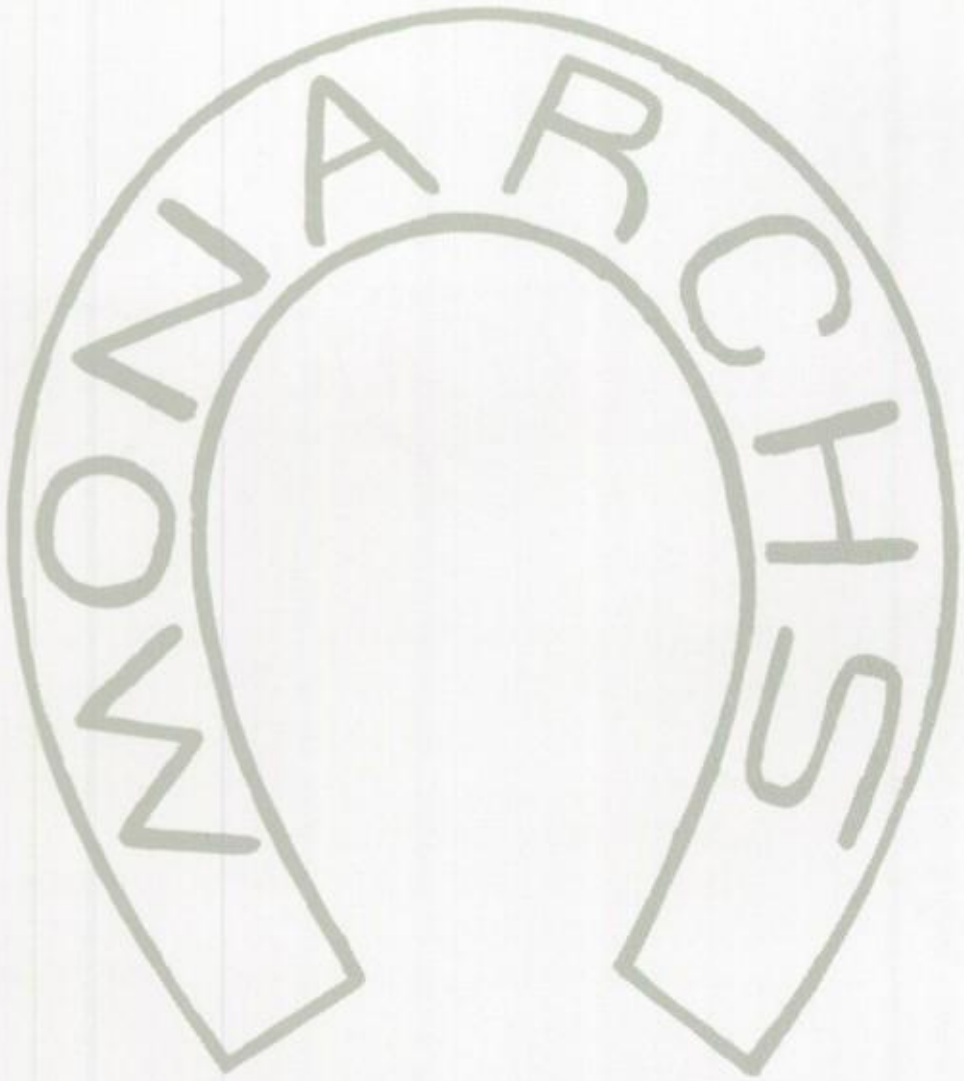
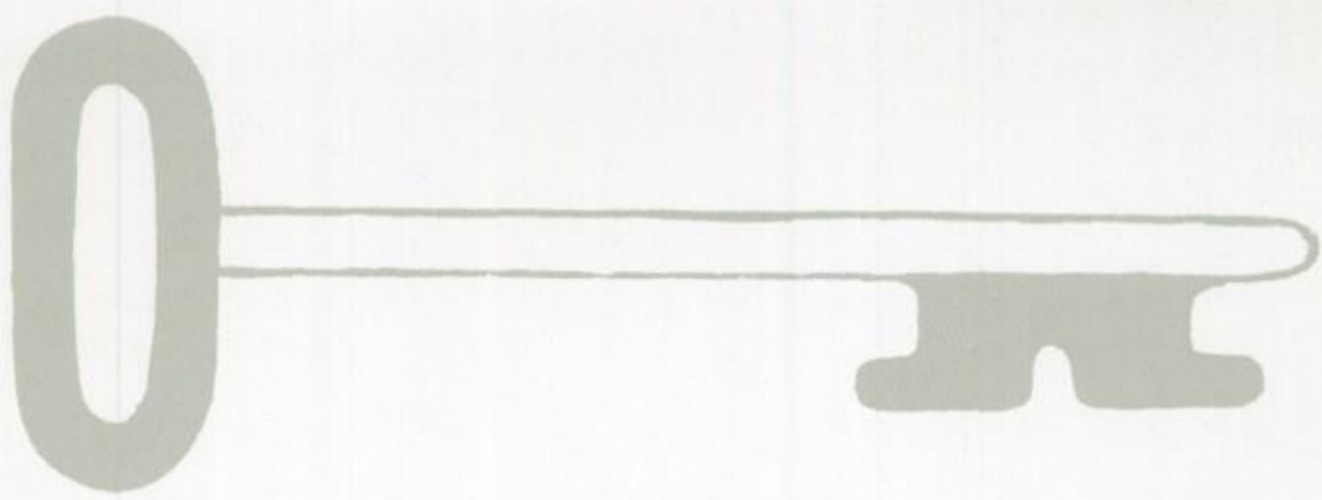
LIFE AT MHS

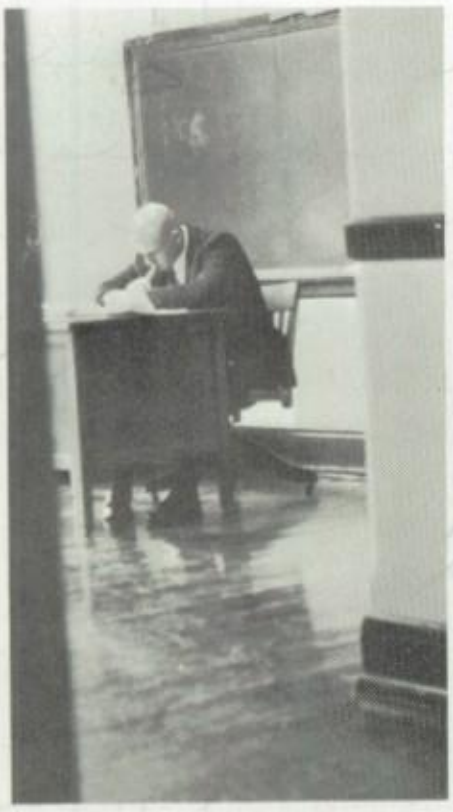




"BUENOS DÍAS"

Y-TEEN

SEPTEMBER



The teachers put into practice the new ideas which they had learned during their summer studies.

The students encountered new classes in which individual participation was an important part.

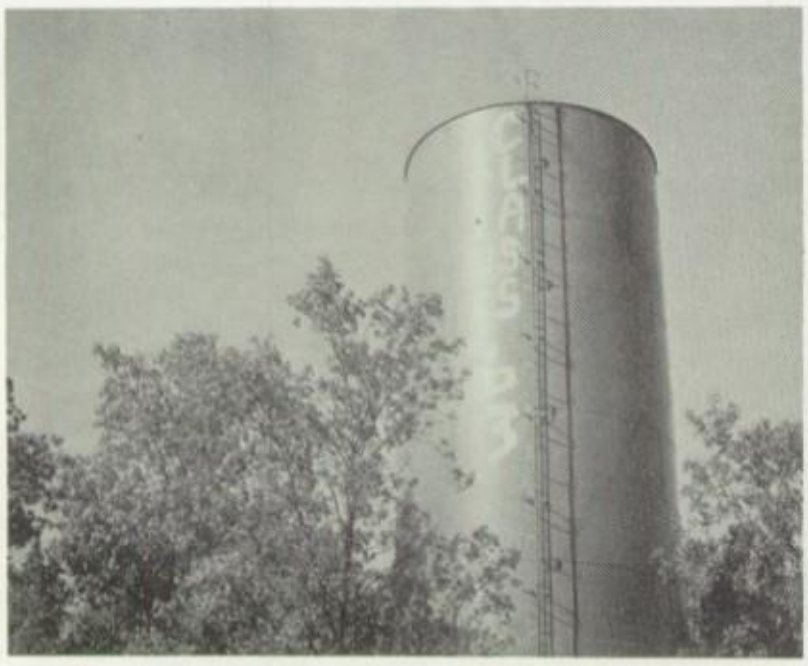
Laboratory work was an interesting addition to class periods.

Besides their regular classes, many pupils took part in extra-curricular activities.

Many subjects required hard study and deep concentration.

With the coming of September, summer vacation was forgotten, and the students settled down to the regular school routine.

OCTOBER



Several senior boys found it necessary to adorn the local water tower.

Stephanie, Carol, and Lynda were chosen by the student body to reign over the homecoming festivities.

Miss Judy Smith crowned Staff 1962 Homecoming Queen.

It is the custom at M.H.S. that the Queen and her royal court lead off a dance with their escorts.

The night before the big homecoming football game, the marching band, football players, and the students saluted their queen and two attendants with a huge bonfire.

NOVEMBER

The cast of the Senior Play included everything from an English sophisticate to a naive American debutante.

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay"

The students appreciate the hard work done by Mrs. Becker, the school secretary.

As the seasons changed, so did the activities. Basketball games and the Senior Play took the place of football games and sock hops.

Sports events were part of '63 and went a long way to improve the sportsmanship of the players and the audience.

A visit from Santa added variety to the Christmas program.

DECEMBER

Wheaties! Breakfast of Champions!

At the beginning of a new year, the resolutions were made by faculty and students.

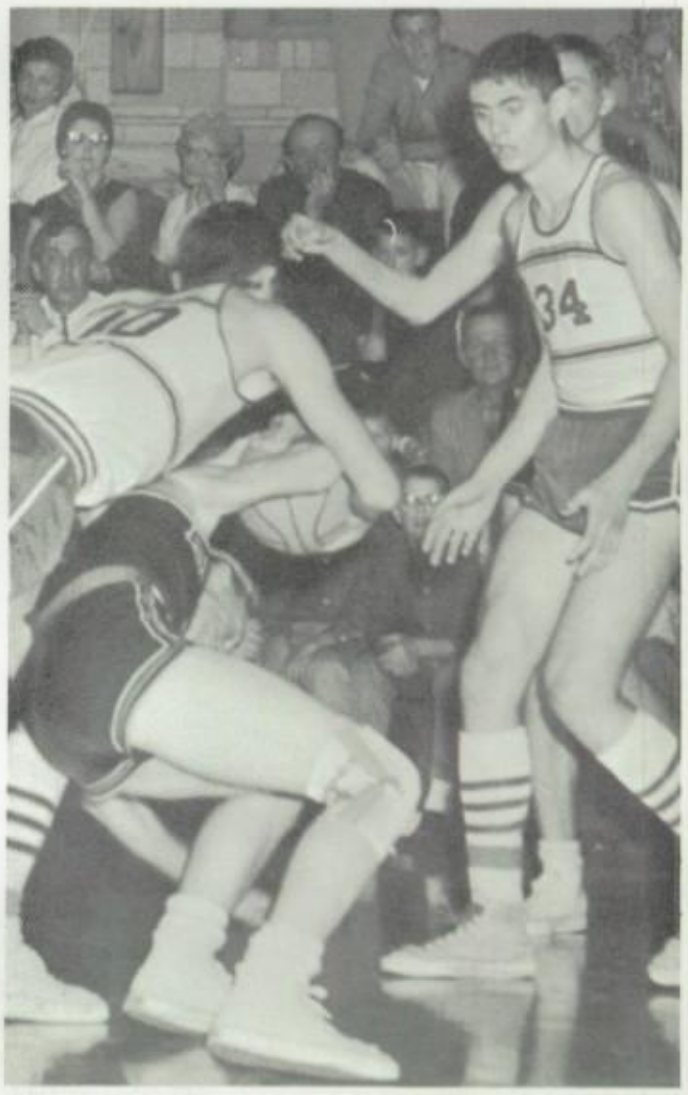
Yuletide spirit and soft, white snow added to the joy and excitement of December.



Even Tom can't believe it's happening!

JANUARY

Senior Pot Luck, all they do is eat.

FEBRUARY

The Girls' Basketball Team was coached by Mrs. Widner to a successful season.

Sweethearts found their way to a beautiful dance sponsored by the Key Club and Y-Teens.

Sharon Lee and Ed Weidman were crowned king and queen of the sweetheart dance.

Yea, Team! Let's Win!

February, the month for sweethearts, will be remembered forever.

MARCH

Ughhh--!?

March was not welcomed by many students as they were to take several tests.

Well, what shall we do now?

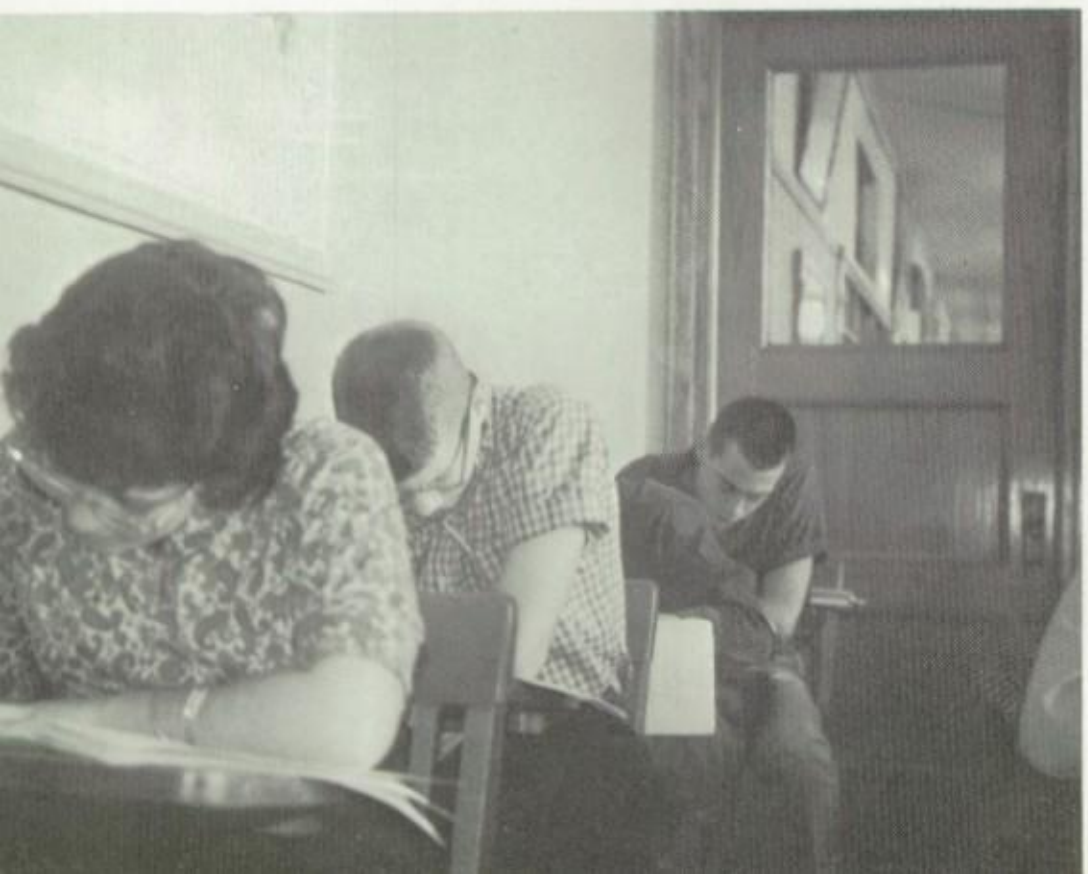
APRIL

All is not play, as these students have proven, when four of the five received honorable mention on National Merit Scholarship Tests and Rick Sullivan received a scholarship.

Do you think it will explode?

Science night was a great success.

Final Exams and it's all over!



April Showers herald the coming of spring and warm weather .

After hearing many shaky voices during try-outs, Mr. Briggs finally made the selections for the Junior Class Play. The many hectic rehearsals paid off when the cast performed before an almost sold-out auditorium.

APRIL

Toward the end of the month, the art class presented an art show with exhibits by all of the students--grade school, junior high, senior high and the adult classes.

M A Y

The Juniors were still very busy during the month of May. They vigorously decorated for the Jr.-Sr. Prom. The setting was "Old Greece." The gym was lined with tall pillars. A fountain was gaily bubbling as the center of attraction. There was also an old Grecian worship altar. Statues were also made by the industrious Juniors.

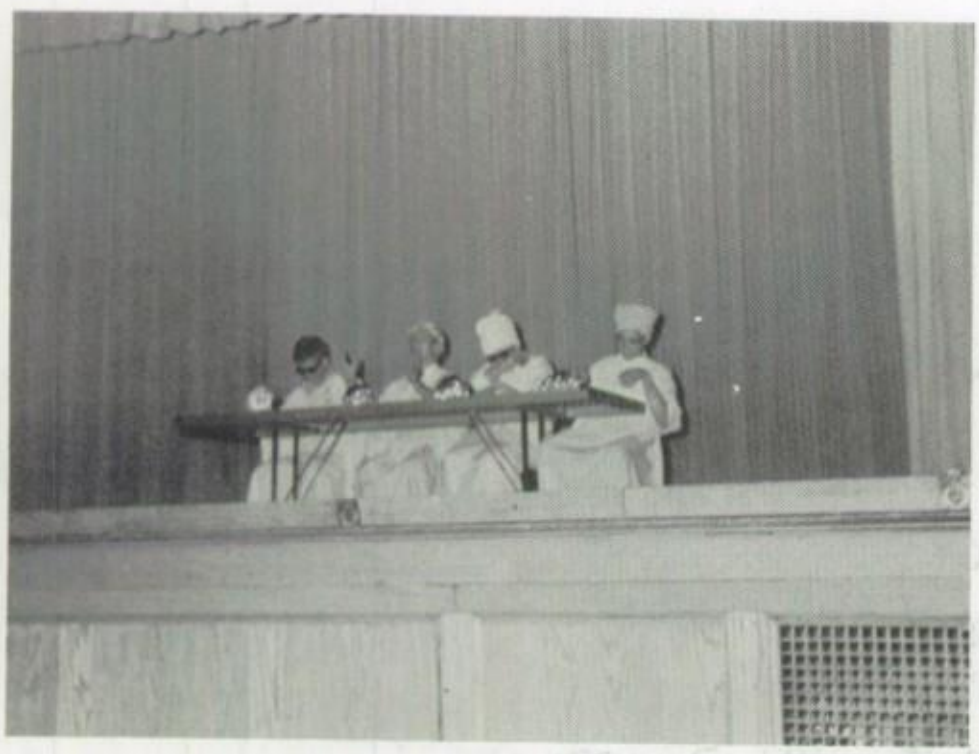
Class Will

The Last Will and Testament was presented to the student body by Sharon Lee, Susan Becker, Pam Blumenschein, Vera Groome, and Lois McIntire, and was written by the students themselves.



Class Prophecy

Suzanne Chalfin, Steve Fisher, Stan Spurgeon, Jim Amrine, Larry Shirk, Duane Rausch, Martin Rupprecht, and Dwayne Jolliff wrote the 1963 Class Prophecy. This year the prophecy was presented in a skit in which each character depicted the role of a swami.

OF '66

Activities of the Junior High this year included the freshman trip to Dearborn, Michigan, where the students toured the River Rouge Steel plant; the Ford Assembly plant; Greenfield Village; and the Henry Ford Museum. The Rotunda, one of the most spectacular places to visit, burned during the winter so the class didn't get to see it.

The eighth grade also took a class trip. Their tour took them to the Wright Patterson Air Force Museum in Dayton. On exhibit were aircraft of the past and of the future.

The student council helped plan a handbook for the new students to help them become better acquainted with the school and its policies.

A candy bar campaign sent many out selling so that they might win a prize for themselves as well as raise money for the school.

In December at the Christmas Dance, a king and queen were chosen. They were Jack Mackan and Karen Harkins.

In the athletic department, the boys participated in football, basketball, golf, wrestling, track, and baseball. Only freshmen participated in the latter three. The G.A.A. provided sports in which girls participated.

Another activity for Junior High students was the band which presented several concerts during the year.

These students in '63 were hard workers, striving for improvement, in many fields, preparing for the future years in the Senior High, and enjoying themselves every moment.

CADET BAND

The cadet band was composed of eighth, ninth, and several selected seventh graders. The purpose of this group was to train them for the senior high band. The band competes in contests with other southwestern Ohio schools during the year. This organization met three times a week and the members had one class lesson weekly. They participated in a pop concert and in a Junior High music festival in the spring.

SEVENTH GRADE BAND

The purpose of the seventh grade band was to train them for the cadet band. These students met two days a week and had one class lesson per week. This group appeared in the Junior High music festival in the spring.

GIRLS' CHORUS

The Jr. High Chorus was divided into 2 groups, consisting of the 8th and 9th grade chorus and the seventh grade chorus.

There was a point system for obtaining grades. The students gave reports in class, wrote reports, planned and fixed the bulletin board, played or sang solos in class and listened to good musical programs or attended musical programs and then reported on them. It took a total of 35 points for an "A" grade.

The chorus made several public appearances during the year. The 8th and 9th grade chorus sang for the PTA in November. They also sang an entire program for the East Building at Christmas. The 7th Grade presented a musical play for the West grades at Christmas.

The complete chorus sang for a chapel program at Easter time. Both groups also participated in the Junior High Spring Musical.

G.A.A.

KICKBALL

The Junior High group participated in all social activities with the Senior High group but it held its own sport tournaments. Team sport tournaments were held in kickball, volleyball, and basketball. Individuals held tournaments in badminton and ping-pong. Throughout the tournaments the motto which states, "He marks not whether you won or lost but how you played the game" was kept in mind by all the participants.

An outstanding Senior who's loads of fun. Also a good Latin and Spanish buddy. Best of luck in future years, although you probably won't need it. Be good, and keep goofing off. If you don't our Senior year will be a bore. Let's make the most of being upper-upper-classmen.
